Bed Flirting: Lie to Me Qian Xiaoweiiran 2019-12-13 She was originally a lonely soul. After being reborn into the ancient era, she had become two thousand gold coins of the General's Estate. She had become the fiendish and blood-thirsty Prince Rui as her concubine. Inside the iron cage, her ragged clothes were thrown down by a ferocious Tibetan mastiff. He stood outside the iron cage and coldly and mockingly said, "This king owes you a wedding night, so let my beloved dog take over!"

Rethinking the Mathematics Curriculum Celia Hoyles 2002-01-04 At a time when political interest in mathematics education is at its highest, this book demonstrates that the issues are far from straightforward. A wide range of international contributors address such questions as: What is mathematics, and what is it for? What skills does mathematics education need to provide as technology advances? What are the implications for teacher education? What can we learn from past attempts to change the mathematics curriculum? Rethinking the Mathematics Curriculum offers stimulating discussions, showing much is to be learnt from the differences in culture, national expectations, and political restraints revealed in the book. This accessible book will be of particular interest to policy makers, curriculum developers, educators, researchers and employers as well as the general reader.

The Mirror and Nine Other Short Stories Nkwentie, Susan Nde 2014-03-16 When a young girl's dreams are cracked like a mirror and children are caught between two fathers harbouring teenage grudges we wonder at life's surprises. These are short stories that present a cross section of an African society presenting life in the village, life in town, portraits of teenagers and adults we encounter every day. These are stories about our struggles with the inevitable forces of life, providing some subtle and interesting insights to these struggles. They have been told by a woman who has, in these stories, proven to be a keen observer who mentally records the thrills, frustrations and idiosyncrasies of the people she encounters. We would wonder, laugh and sympathise with the characters she has so vividly recreated.
